APPLICATION AND INVESTOR PROFILE

The Fund is suitable for investors:

- * With a longer term investment horizon who are comfortable with shorter term volatility and risk associated with a fund mandated to achieve long term capital growth.
- * As part of their long term growth assets as determined by their financial analysis.
- * Seeking actively managed exposure to global equity opportunities whilst seeking to mitigate downside risk that undermines the long term growth objective.

A higher TER does not necessarily imply a poor return, nor does a low TER imply a good return. The current TER may not necessarily be an accurate indication of future TER's. Transaction Costs are a necessary cost in administering the financial product and impacts financial product returns. It should not be considered in isolation as returns may be impacted by many other factors over time including market returns, the type of financial product, the investment decisions of the investment manager and the TER.

administration of the financial product. The Transaction Cost (TC) of the value of the financial product was incurred as costs relating to the buying and selling of underlying assets within the financial product. Total Investment Charges

(TIC) of the value of the financial product was incurred as costs relating to the investment of the financial product. The

TER, TC and TIC figures are inclusive of VAT. The period (annualised) was from 1 July 2022 to 30 June 2025.

FUND MANAGER COMMENTARY

History moves in cycles. French historian Fernand Braudel identified three specific cycles. The first happens day to day. Braudel referred to them as "fireflies" - they dart all over the place with no particular pattern evident. The second, he referred to as paradigm shifts - the all too familiar end of the Cold War or globalisation. These play out over decades. Finally, there is the longue durée; trends that move at a glacial pace but changes everything from climate to geography over centuries or millennia. Many of the events that have shaped the Trump presidency look like fireflies - seemingly random events. Many cite them as power grabs. But they are much more. They are all part of a carefully orchestrated movement as set out in the position paper entitled "Project 2025". How then does one position for this environment. Our sense is that: Economic growth in the US is slowing. Tariff pass-through is likely to increase inflationary pressures at the consumer level - we don't expect headline inflation to rise that much, given the services component; Lower interest rates in the US will act as a tailwind for equities, as will positive earnings revisions; But we need to monitor the TED spread and 10/30 spread in the US for signs of liquidity stress, as both have been rising. We continue to diversify your portfolio away from the US with recent exposure additions in Europe and Asia and manage for risk as it is plausible that the US could enter a growth recession sometime in 2026, with a concomitant impact on valuation.
