MARKET COMMENTARY

Global markets maintained solid momentum (MSCI ACWI, +4.5% MoM, +11.7% QoQ) in June as investors become more comfortable with risky assets despite ongoing uncertainty in trade and geopolitics. US equities led performance among developed markets with blue-chips (S&P 500, +5.1% MoM, +10.9% QoQ), tech (Nasdaq 100, +6.3% MoM, +17.9% QoQ) and small-caps (Russell 2000,

+5.3% MoM, +8.1% (OoQ) all enjoying strong returns, although small-caps are still down year-to-date, struggling to catch up as bond yields remain high and financial conditions remain tight. European

(Stoxx 600, -1.2% MoM, +3.3% QoQ) and UK equities (FTSE 100, - MoM, +3.2% QoQ) fell behind in local, nominal terms. However, both regions made up the difference due to currency appreciation as both the Euro (EURUSD, +3.4% MoM, +8.7% QoQ) and British Pound (GBPUSD, +1.6% MoM, +6.1% QoQ) continued to gain against USD. Over in Asia, Korea (KOSPI, +13.9% MoM, +23.8% QoQ) enjoyed another stellar month after the outcome of presidential elections gave investors hope of stock market reforms aimed to unlock value trapped within local conglomerates. Chinese (Hang Seng, +4.1% MoM, +5.8% QoQ) and Japanese (Nikkei 225, +6.8% MoM, +13.9% QoQ) equities also performed well. The bond market followed suit in the US (Vanguard US Corp Bonds UCITS ETF, +1.5% MoM, +1.7% QoQ) and emerging markets (Vanguard USD EM Govt Bond UCITS ETF, +2.0% MoM, +3.1% QoQ). Gold was flat, solidifying year-to-date gains, while oil spiked to cover some q-o-q losses (ICE Brent Crude, +5.8% MoM, -9.5% QoQ) as the Israel/Iran conflict escalated to direct missile exchanges with US involvement.

GLOSSARY OF TERMS

Annualised Volatility	Annualised volatility is a statistical measure of the magnitude of the historical daily (logarithmic) returns of the portfolio NAV, scaled to be representative of a full calendar year using a 256-day count. Only the NAV of trading days are used in calculating this measure.
Annualised Return	Annualised return is a measure which rescales returns, for periods greater than one year, to a 12-month geometric average return.
Best/Worst 12-Months	Respectively, the maximum and minimum % change in NAV Per Share over a 12-month period using daily performance data.
NAV Per Share	Net Asset Value (NAV) Per Share represents the total market value of the portfolio less liabilities and divided by the number of outstanding shares.
Positive / Negative Month(s)	A month is positive (negative) if the NAV Per Share, of a specific share class, increases (decreases) in value from the last day of the previous month to the last day of the following month.
Risk Indicator	The risk indicator for the Fund is set at 4 as this reflects the market risk arising from the proposed investments. The risk indicator is determined using historical data or, where historical data is not available, using simulated historical data. Historical data, such as is used in calculating the synthetic indicator, may not be a reliable indication of the future risk profile of the Fund. The risk category shown is not a target or a guarantee and may change over time. A category 1 fund is not risk free, the risk of loss is small but the chance of making gains may also be limited. With a category 7 fund, the risk of losing money is high but so also is the possibility of making gains.

FUND SPECIFIC RISKS

Market Risk: Value of equities (e.g., shares) and equity-related investments may vary according to company profits and future prospects as well as more general market factors. In the event of a company default (e.g., bankruptcy), the owners of their equity rank last in terms of any financial payment from that company.

Currency Risk: The change in price of one currency in relation to another. This is common where you invest using multiple currencies, either intentionally or not (i.e., underlying holdings of a UCITS would be un-intentional). Change in exchange rates may have an adverse effect on performance.
