Fund Objective

The Rock Capital IP Worldwide Flexible Fund is a moderate to high risk, flexible fund. The objective of this portfolio is to achieve capital appreciation over the medium to long term.

Fund Universe

Investments to be included in the ROCK CAPITAL IP WORLDWIDE FLEXIBLE FUND will, apart from assets in liquid form, consist of securities and financial instruments across the equity, fixed interest and property markets. The portfolio will typically be highly exposed to equities but the Portfolio Manager will have complete flexibility to vary the exposure to different asset classes as economic conditions vary. The portfolio will typically not hold more than 20 securities at any time.

Manager Commentary

Markets have found a firmer footing, after a turbulent start to 2025 driven by tariff tensions and conflicts in the Middle East. Global uncertainty remains high and is fueled by USA President Trump's unpredictability, broader geopolitical risks, the imminent expiry of the 90-day tariff reprieve.

Despite this, market sentiment is more constructive. The rand remains on a firmer footing, and oil prices have retreated on the back of oversupply following the short-lived Israel-Iran spike. The local political outlook is still unclear, despite our expectation that the Government of National Unity will hold. A reduction in the inflation target later this year could keep monetary policy more restrictive until longer-term inflation expectations adjust accordingly.

The Rock Capital Worldwide Flexible Fund has performed well under the prevailing market backdrop. The cautious approach, along with the flexibility to take advantage of market volatility, has supported relative outperformance. We remain focused on identifying quality opportunities across asset classes while managing risk prudently in what continues to be an uncertain and fast-evolving environment.

Volatility is a statistical measure of the dispersion of returns for a given security or market index.

Tracking error is a measure of the risk in an investment portfolio that is due to active management decisions made by the portfolio manager; it indicates how closely a portfolio follows the index to which it is benchmarked.

Information ratio is a measure of the risk-adjusted return of a portfolio. In this case, it measures the active return of the manager's portfolio divided by the amount of risk that the manager takes relative to the benchmark.

Sharpe Ratio is a measure for calculating risk-adjusted return. It is the average return earned in excess of the risk-free rate per unit of total risk. The greater a portfolio's Sharpe ratio, the better its risk-adjusted performance has been (i.e. a higher return with a contained risk profile, where the portfolio manager is not taking excessive risk to achieve those returns).

Beta is a measure of the volatility, or systematic risk, of a security or a portfolio in comparison to the market as a whole.

Alpha is a measure of the active return on an investment. It represents the excess returns of a fund relative to the return of a suitable benchmark.

Transaction costs (TC) relate to the buying and selling of the assets underlying the financial product. Total Investment Charge (TIC) is the value of the financial product incurred as costs relating to the investment of the financial product. A higher TER does not necessarily imply a poor return, nor does a low TER imply a good return. The current TER may not necessarily be an accurate indication of future TER's. Transaction Costs are a necessary cost in administering the financial product and impacts the financial product returns. It should not be considered in isolation as returns may be impacted by many other factors over time such as market returns, the type of financial product, the investment decisions of the investment manager and the TER.
